

General Safeguarding and Welfare Requirement: Information and records

Providers must maintain records and obtain and share information to ensure the safe and efficient management of the setting, and to help ensure the needs of all children are met.

10.6 Children's Records

Policy statement

There are record keeping systems in place that meet legal requirements; means of storing and sharing that information take place within the framework of the General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR 2018) and the Human Rights Act (1998).

This policy and procedure is taken in conjunction with the Confidentiality and Client Access to Records policy, Privacy policy and Information Sharing policy.

Procedures

We keep two kinds of records on children attending our setting:

Developmental records

- These include observations of children in the setting, photographs, video clips and samples of their work and summary developmental reports.
- These are usually kept on a secure server and can be freely accessed, and contributed to, by staff, the child and the child's parents.

Personal records

- These include registration and admission forms, signed consent forms, and correspondence concerning the child or family, reports or minutes from meetings concerning the child from other agencies, an ongoing record of relevant contact with parents, and observations by staff on any confidential matter involving the child, such as developmental concerns or child protection matters.

- These confidential records are stored in a lockable cupboard in the setting.
- Parents have access, in accordance with our Privacy policy, Client Access to Records policy, to the files and records of their own children but do not have access to information about any other child.
- Staff will not discuss personal information given by parents with other members of staff, except where it affects planning for the child's needs. Staff induction includes an awareness of the importance of confidentiality in the role of the key person.
- We retain children's records for one year after they have left the setting. These are kept in a secure place. These include their address and their progress records.

Archiving Children's Files

- When a child leaves our setting, we remove all paper documents from the child's personal file and store them in paper or electronic format for three years or until our next OFSTED inspection, whichever is the longest.
- If data is kept electronically it will be password protected.
- Where there were s.47 child protection investigations, we will keep the archived records for 25 years.
- We store financial information according to our finance procedures.

Other records

- We keep an electronic record (paper if necessary) of the names of the children we are caring for, their hours of attendance and the names of their key person.
- Issues to do with the employment of staff, whether paid or unpaid, remain confidential to the people directly involved with making personnel decisions.
- Students, when they are observing in the setting, are advised of our confidentiality policy and are required to respect it.

Legal framework

- General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR 2018)
- Human Rights Act (1998)
